1.0 Purpose

The objective of this procedure is to outline Stanwell’s approach to recruitment, selection and appointment. It aims to ensure:

- a fair and equitable approach to the attraction, recruitment, assessment and selection processes;
- our selection processes are effective and efficient: transparent, professional and timely;
- selection processes are based on merit, comply with legislation and facilitate a diverse workforce;
- selection practices enable the appointment of people who embody the Corporation’s values as well as the skills and capabilities to fulfil Stanwell’s strategic objectives.

2.0 Scope

This procedure applies to all areas of Stanwell’s recruitment, selection and appointment activities except for Chief and Senior Executive recruitment.

Recruitment, selection and appointment activities are defined as all instances of temporary/contract, fixed term and permanent recruitment activities not supplied by a major external contracting service provider or engineering panel (e.g. UGL, Aurecon, Hatch).

3.0 Actions

This procedure consists of five main components:

3.1 Position Management

3.1.1 Position Profiles

An approved position profile must be submitted for all recruitment activity. Each request must be submitted with a current and approved position profile in PageUp.

3.1.2 Position Assessment and Remuneration

All roles progressing to recruitment are required to have a pre-determined remuneration outcome prior to the commencement of a recruitment process. The relevant enterprise agreements, the Alternative Employment Arrangement (AEA) Remuneration Policy and any preserved transitioned remuneration policies will define the appropriate remuneration applicable to an individual under the new appointment.

HR Business Partner (HRBP) will provide the Recruitment Advisor with the remuneration details for the recruitment process.

3.1.3 Engagement Terms

Prior to the commencement of a recruitment process, hiring managers will need to determine the engagement terms. The following engagement terms may apply:

- Permanent Employment
- Fixed-Term Employment
- Contractor/Temporary Engagement (through third party labour supplier)

All engagement terms should be considered in conjunction with the workforce plan and organisation's strategic objectives.

3.2 Approval Process

HR endorsement and an appropriate approval process must be followed for all recruitment activity. See table:

	Permanent/Fixed Term	Temporary/Contractor	Unbudgeted Position
Site Roles up to Superintendent	Site Manager	Budget Holder	CEO
Site Leadership Team	Divisional EGM
BLG	Divisional EGM
Corporate Function	Functional Lead

All requests must be lodged via PageUp (e-Recruitment tool), people leader guides are available on GenNet under Our People>Jobs and Recruitment.

The Internal Transfer, Secondment and Mobility Procedure should be read in conjunction with this policy to support any internal movements between positions, teams and sites.

3.2.1 Permanent and Fixed-Term Positions

For budgeted positions, a short justification is required to ensure appropriate consideration is given to the vacancy in its current form.

Unbudgeted positions or increases to the workforce plan must be accompanied by an appropriate memo, which is attached to the Pageup request, for consideration.

3.2.2 Contractor/Temporary Engagement (through third party labour supplier)

A Contractor/Temporary resource is short term labour engaged to perform a specific set of tasks under the direction of a Stanwell line manager. They will be engaged through one of our panel partners.

All requests must be within budget and submitted via PageUp with details of the requirement, engagement term, proposed hourly rate (as determined by the relevant enterprise agreement, positions grade/points or budget parameters) and a short justification.

For engagement of consultants or resources through the engineering panel please contact Procurement. Stanwell does not support the use of sole traders/independent contractors.

3.2.3 Internal Transfer Opportunities

Subject to business needs, an opportunity may be provided to employees who wish to transfer between teams on a particular site to leverage skill development opportunities or support skill shortages.

The Internal Transfer, Secondment and Mobility Procedure prescribes the transfer process and eligibility criteria in detail.

3.2.4 Secondment Opportunities

Secondments are a temporary transfer to an alternate position within the organisation. The transfer is for a fixed period of time and at the conclusion of the secondment the appointee returns to their substantive position, or an agreed alternative position. Secondment opportunities may include standard merit selection process; however secondments may also be confirmed via direct appointment if endorsed by the HR Business Partner and approved by the Divisional EGM. The Internal Transfer, Secondment and Mobility Procedure details associated secondment processes.

3.2.5 Second Hat Opportunities

Second hat opportunities are positions performed in conjunction with the employee's primary/substantive role. All requests must be submitted via PageUp along with an approved position profile.

3.3 Targeted Attraction and Sourcing Parameters

3.3.1 Sourcing Strategy

The Recruitment Advisor will work with the hiring manager to determine the most appropriate sourcing strategy for the resourcing requirement. The strategy will be determined after considering potential internal candidate pools, the urgency and specialist nature of the role, the position's location and the external employment market. Where a sufficient candidate pool can be generated internally, an internal recruitment process is appropriate. Where there is not a readily identifiable internal candidate pool, or it is deemed appropriate to test the external market, an external sourcing campaign will commence.

Sourcing strategies that may be considered include, but are not limited to:

- External advertising
- Internal advertising
- Appointment by secondment
- Direct appointment
- Application by invitation
- Application by expression of interest
- Use of search or external agency

3.3.2 Advertising

The Recruitment Advisor is responsible for devising and executing advertising and sourcing campaigns. Vacancies that require external sourcing will be published on the Stanwell website and may also appear in various online, print and social media forums. Internal sourcing positions will be advertised on GenNet and are open to internal applicants only. The Recruitment Advisor is responsible for writing and booking all advertisements.

At a minimum, applications for advertised vacancies will close at least five (5) working days from the initial notification of an open position.

All print advertising requires the approval of the Recruitment Advisor.

3.3.3 Recruitment Agency or Third Party Labour Supplier Engagement

Our panel partners will provide the basis for engaging agency assistance for contractor/temporary resource. The Recruitment Advisor is responsible for engaging and managing the relationship with our panel partners on behalf of Stanwell. All contact with the agency/supplier must be coordinated through Recruitment. Hiring Managers are not authorised to accept terms of business or candidate applications on behalf of the organisation.

3.4 Recruitment Process

3.4.1 Applications

Applications, inclusive of a resume and cover letter should be submitted online. Hand delivered/emailed applications will generally not be accepted.

3.4.2 Employee Referral

Employees who nominate prospective applicants to vacant positions are required to notify the potential applicant of a current vacancy by selecting the 'Refer' icon at the bottom of the advertised vacancy. Should the prospective applicant wish to apply for the vacancy, they should submit their application for consideration via our website. The Employee Referral Incentive Procedure defines the eligibility and scope of the payment scheme.

3.4.3 Selection Panel

The selection panel is established by the hiring manager in agreement with the Recruitment Advisor. At a minimum, the selection panel will consist of a Recruitment Advisor, the hiring manager and a key stakeholder.

3.4.4 Selection Process

To select a preferred candidate for a position, a number of activities may be undertaken following the advertising closing date:

- An initial long list of candidates will be established by the Recruitment Advisor based on the requirements of the position and any phone screening activities undertaken. The hiring manager will review and finalise a short list of candidates to progress through to interview.
- A behaviourally-based interview guide will be developed by recruitment in consultation with the hiring manager and used to ensure merit selection principles are adhered to.
- Short listed candidates will undertake at least one panel interview.
- Preferred candidates will be required to undertake pre-employment assessment activities which may include psychological and technical assessments, work-based demonstrations, work sampling, medical examinations, probity checks (e.g. criminal check, eligibility to work in Australia, academic records, professional qualifications and work-related licenses. Additional job fit activities may also be undertaken at this point.
- At least two reference checks will be undertaken by the Recruitment Advisor using the reference template. Where appropriate hiring managers may also like to undertake a technical reference check.

Unauthorised reference checks or enquiries about an applicants' previous employment are not permitted.

- Recruitment will facilitate candidate-care activities to ensure familiarisation with the job, company and location as required.
- A recommendation to appoint, supported by the appropriate documentation will be facilitated by the Recruitment Advisor. All recommendations to appoint require two-tier approval.

3.4.5 Privacy and Confidentiality

All enquiries and applications for vacancies from internal and external applicants shall be treated with the strictest confidentiality. Disclosure of information must only be made to parties directly involved in the recruitment and merit activity. Confidential information includes matters discussed or discovered during the recruitment and the selection process.

3.4.6 Conflicts of Interest

Employees involved with the recruitment and selection process who have knowledge of a person(s) applying for a position are required to disclose the relationship to the Recruitment Advisor. Who will determine if there is a conflict of interest prior to the commencement of the selection process.

The Recruitment Advisor will advise of a suitable course of action depending on the employee's previous interactions with the applicant(s) and the employee's anticipated level of involvement in the recruitment and selection process. In some situations, it may be appropriate for the employee to have no further involvement in the recruitment process.

3.5 Appointments

3.5.1 Formal Offers of Employment

Once approved, offers of employment are prepared by the Recruitment Advisor. Offers must include all relevant information and be in accordance with the Alternative Employment Arrangement (AEA) Remuneration Policy and relevant enterprise agreement. The proposed remuneration package will be formulated by the Recruitment Advisor, in consultation with the Hiring Manager.

Offers are to be made electronically via PageUp by the Recruitment Advisor. The Corporation does not support the making of informal offers of employment. Offers of employment must not be discussed with candidates without an approval to appoint being formalised.

3.5.2 Relocation Assistance

Relocation assistance may be offered to current and new employees who relocate to take up employment with the Corporation. Details of the assistance offered should be outlined in the offer of employment and supported by the Relocation Assistance Procedure and/or relevant enterprise agreement conditions.

3.5.3 Internal Mobility Assistance

Mobility assistance may be offered to employees who are interested in accessing short-term development or secondment opportunities across the Corporation. The Internal Transfer, Secondment and Mobility Procedure outline the scope of the program.

3.5.4 Offer Acceptance

Formal acceptance of an offer of employment requires the online acceptance of the employment contract. The sighting of original documentation or certified copies of qualifications and/or licences is required for all successful applicants, with copies to be added to employee file on commencement.

3.5.5 Advising Unsuccessful Applicants

Unsuccessful candidates shall be notified immediately after the successful candidate has formally accepted the offer of employment for the vacant position. Notification will primarily be verbal, however sometimes written advice may also be communicated. Unsuccessful internal applicants may seek formal interview feedback if requested.

3.5.6 Commencement of Employment

It is the Hiring Manager's responsibility to ensure all new starters complete the Corporate and site-specific induction programs. The Recruitment Advisor will ensure that all key documentation is completed as required in the onboarding process e.g. acceptance letter, qualifications, licences, payroll details.
